Summary

At HCLTech, I apply a pragmatic and results-oriented approach to resolving client issues on a global scale. Beyond troubleshooting, I actively contribute to refining processes that hinder team efficiency, ensuring smoother workflows and improved productivity. My passion lies in bridging the gap between ideation and execution, where I not only conceptualize innovative solutions but also work towards their seamless implementation.

With a strong inclination toward technical advancements that drive tangible business growth, I am constantly seeking opportunities to integrate technology with strategic management. I thrive in dynamic environments where I can leverage both my technical expertise and leadership skills to optimize team performance, enhance operational efficiency, and contribute to impactful business outcomes.

I am eager to explore opportunities that allow me to make a meaningful impact by driving innovation, improving processes, and fostering a culture of efficiency and continuous growth.

As the Arts Club Coordinator during my bachelor's, I had the opportunity to bring students together through creative events like exhibitions, cultural fests, and workshops. I enjoyed planning fun activities, encouraging participation, and helping everyone showcase their talents. It was a rewarding experience that let me explore my leadership skills while making campus life more lively and exciting.
